For four years, we have been helping young talents get the recognition they deserve. Join us!

Join a project that appeals to an entire generation of young architects.
Be there at the beginning of their careers and help them realize their professionalism.

INSPIRELI AWARDS Ceremony at the Czech Technical University in Prague.

ABOUT INSPIRELI AWARDS

The original idea of the competition came from President Vaclav Havel and Professor Bořek Šípek. The aim was to build a platform to help up-and-coming talents in architecture, regardless of their economic, social, or ethnic conditions.

Within three years of the project's launch, INSPIRELI AWARDS has developed into one of the World's largest student competitions.

AWARD ORGANIZERS

The award began in 2014 as a private initiative of several friends, who, at its first year in 2015, received the worldwide support of the Czech Ministry of Education. Since 2017, the Czech Technical University in Prague has been actively involved in the competition, due to being a direct member of the realization team.

Voting systems have been developed in cooperation with Karel Janeček's D 21 Company.

OUR SUPPORT OF YOUNG TALENTS

We have helped 2 000+ young talents be recognized from more than 120 countries, of whom the world would never have known otherwise. We showcase young talents from over 20 African countries and are changing the views of this continent.

We are connecting young students with the most famous architects in the World.

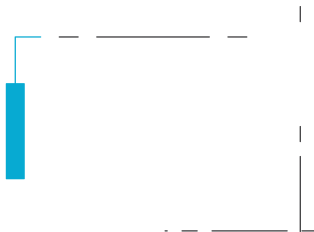

Hundreds of universities, dozens of associations, and hundreds of thousands of world architects know that the Czech Republic has a competition supporting young talents and is known by CTU and its 300-year tradition.

Thanks to us the Winner of INSPIRELI AWARDS 2015 Yaojian Guo traveled outside of China for the first time.

The award is always free, so Adnan Aboras, a student from Yemen, competed in INSPIRELI AWARDS, even though military conflict surrounded him.

OUR SUPPORT OF YOUNG TALENTS

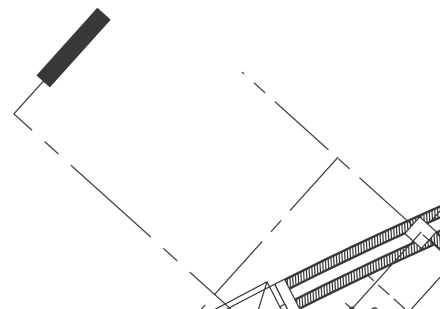

Somayeh Ravanshad, Professor of the University of Architecture in Iran, was the best ambassador for Inspireli last year, and has been selected as a young juror for the competition.

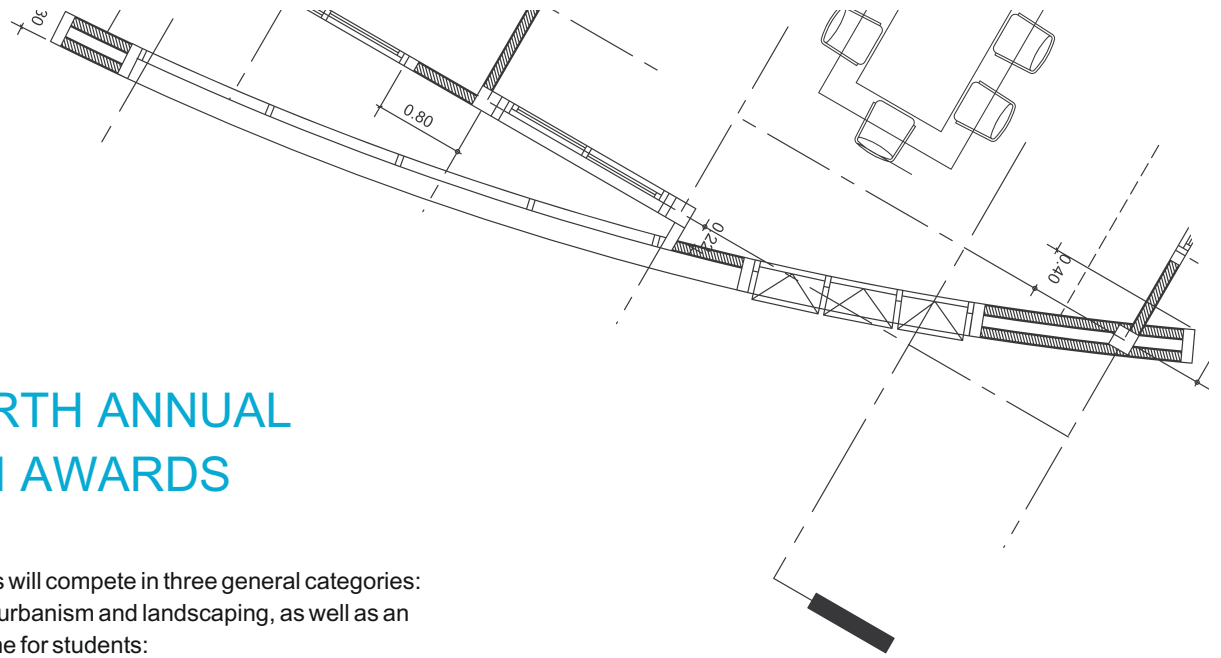

Student Martin Hořešovský met the most prominent architect of Indonesia, Budi Pradono, and became a member of his team during the Venice Biennale.

Ksenia Zabardygina a winner of the vision category from Siberia, Russia, obtained a flight ticket to Prague for a grand ceremony where her international showcasing took place.

THE FOURTH ANNUAL INSPIRELI AWARDS

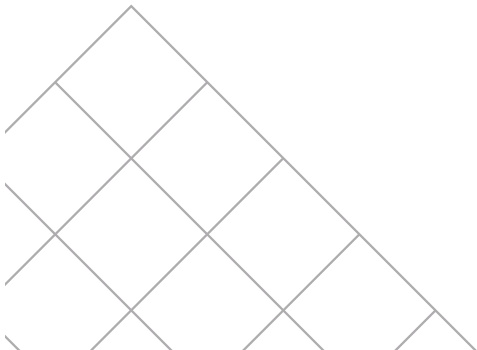

This year the students will compete in three general categories: architecture, interior, urbanism and landscaping, as well as an opportunity of a lifetime for students:

designing the Embassy of the Czech Republic in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, for the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Czech Republic. The author's name will also be written on the wall of the Embassy.

THIS YEAR’S INSPIRELI COMPETITION IS EXTRAORDINARY!

Through INSPIRELI AWARDS, students from all over the world have a unique opportunity to participate in the project of the new Embassy of the Czech Republic in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, which will be realized on the basis of the winning Idea Design.

The aim of INSPIRELI AWARDS has been, from the very beginning, to involve students in real-life projects, where they can then further develop their professional careers. The project of the Embassy in Ethiopia is one of the most prestigious forms of how we can start these activities.

INSPIRELI TEAM

The foundation of the stability of the whole is in the variety of its parts. The variety within the Inspireli Awards is one of its strengths.

The INSPIRELI AWARDS team was set up in 2014 with a number of top experts having contributed to the project. Currently the team consists of two founders Karel Smejkal and Kamil Šimkovič, as well as, two leading experts in their fields: Otto Dvorak and Karel Janeček.

Karel Smejkal is Vice-chairman of the Czech Society of Architects, a member of the American Institute of Architects and is involved in the research of psychology of architecture at the Czech Technical University in Prague.

Kamil Šimkovič is an economist ensuring the accounting and financial aspects of the project.

Otto Dvorak, a member of the American Institute of Architects, has been a longtime professor at Harvard University and is currently one of the world's expert in architecture, urban planning, and conservation. His services are being used by leading home and world developers.

Thomas Bitnar, a fellow of the American Institute of Architects

Successful entrepreneur and philanthropist Karel Janeček is the newest member of the core team. He provides software support and technology for evaluating modules within the project.

INSIDEOUT SCHOOL IN GHANA

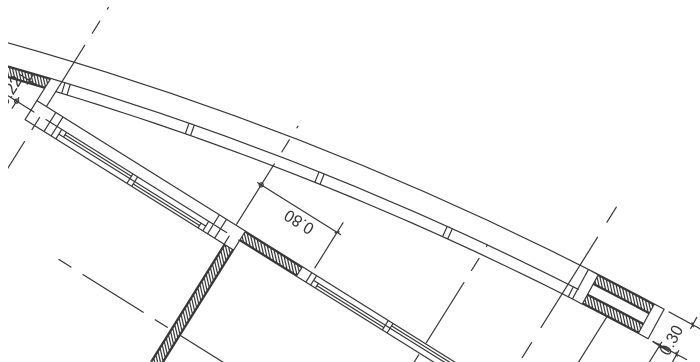

Dear Francesca and Andrea,

I want to congratulate you on your impressive project "Inside Out: Sustainable School in Ghana" submitted to the INSPIRELI AWARDS 2017 global contest. I found this designed space to be extremely comfortable, utilizing natural materials such as soil and timber, to allow the user to feel the refreshing breeze. I believe it must have been quite difficult to build this project at such a low cost, so your idea of building this school together with the local people is really impressive. I am sure the involvement of the local citizens and children within the building process made them extremely proud of the final building.

Sincerely,

Toyo Ito
