

Unique EDUCATIONAL Project for STUDENTS announcement

INSPIRELI AWARDS would like to inform you that we are preparing for a launch of a unique, educational experience for the students of Architecture and other technical Universities and we would like to invite you to participate in this project and bring this excellent opportunity to your students.

In September 2022, the INSPIRELI AWARDS competition for Croatian holiday project will be launched (ending 14 February 2023). Students will get the chance to design the architecture and interior of a project of up to 150,000 m<sup>2</sup> with a total investment value of approximately 100 million EUR in Starigrad Paklenica, Croatia by Czech investor YD capital. Approximately 120 residential buildings / 9-12 multifunctional buildings (restaurants, bars, cafes, spa / fitness, cowork center, marina, sports facilities, etc.)

This prodigious project allows students to be involved in shaping the final design and to work with product and technology suppliers from design to implementation, giving them practical experience to use what they are learning at your University.

We would like to ask you to reserve the winter semester workshop for this and we hope your whole University will engage in the Inspireli Croatian Competition, as this is a first educative project of such scope on the international level. And this is just the beginning.

There will be multiple winners – as this is a complex project we are looking for fresh ideas in each segment / building type. It is up to the University or the professor which part(s) you decide to focus on in the workshop.

The winners will become part of the INSPIRELI TEAM CROATIA, and will be invited to Czech Republic to learn with the lead architect and 3D specialist. Their name will be displayed on the building designed and they (with their University) will receive lot of promotion within our marketing activities for the next 3 years. When the resort is built in 2026, they will be invited with their entourage to the opening ceremony and enjoy 10 days at the resort for free.

INSPIRELI AWARDS strive for student's support and is open to all, regardless of their economic, social, or ethnic background – to compete is always free of charge and Inspireli offers professional's feedbacks to the students.

The full directions and rules of the competitions will be published during next couple months (est. July, August), as the urban study is finished to provide the base of the designs.
